sylvania Boys Expected In San Francisco Tomorrow—General Anderson Has Command of the Troops to Start Tomorrow, but General Otis Is Expected to Accompany Them—The Powerful
Monitor Monterey Sent an Order to Proceed to Manila to Join Dewey.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—An extended dispatch from San Francisco, giving the final details of the embarkation of troops for the Philippines tomorrow, stated that the City of Pekin, the Sydney and the Australia would sail on that day with the First regiment of California volunteers, the First Oregon volunteers, one officer and 50 men from the heavy artillery of the California volunteers, making in all 125 officers and 2,400 men, under Brigadier General Thomas Anderson. Although General Anderson takes charge of this command, it is understood that General Otis, who is in San Francisco, will accompany the expedition. The Pekin was originally secured by the navy department, but as she is so large and serviceable as a troopship, the army is using her in conjunction with the navy. Besides the troops, she will carry supplies and ammunition for the navy.

An order was dispatched Saturday to the Monterey to proceed to Manila to reinforce Admiral Dewey's squadron. The Monterey is probably the most formidable monitor in the world. She is described technically as a barbette turret, low freeboard monitor of 4,000 tons displacement, and carries in two turrets surrounded by barbettes two 12-inch and two 10-inch guns, while on her superstructure between the turrets are mounted six 6-pounders, four 1-pounders and two Gatlings.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The Charleston is well on her way to Manila. The big cruiser passed through the Golden Gate at 8:20 Sunday morning, after having been anchored in the stream all night. She adjusted her compasses at an early hour and then passed up the bay through the Raccoon straits and past the docks on the northern frontage of the city. She was given an enthusiastic goodby by steam vessels and soldiers.

The Pennsylvania troops are expected to arrive tomorrow.

FAVOR PROSECUTING WAR WITH UTMOST ENERGY.

Spanish Minister of the Interior Talks
Belligerently, but Admits Ultimate Defeat.

MADRID, May 23.—It is reported that Senor Leon y Castillo will return to his post at Paris.

Senor Capdepon, minister of the interior, has denied in the course of an interview that the change in the constitution of the ministry would involve any alteration in the foreign policy of Spain, all the new ministers being in favor of prosecuting the war to the end with the utmost energy.

"Spain," said Senor Capdepon, "went perilously near sacrificing her honor in the interests of peace, only making a stand when further concessions would have involved her disgrace and effacement as a nation. This she will never do, and in this resolve the new cabinet is as thoroughly determined as the old. The new cabinet entertains no illusions. It is aware that weakness and poverty are opposed to strength and wealth, but Spain is in the position of a duelist bound to defend his honor against the gross insults of a more powerful antagonist who, although he is convinced that the result is almost certain death, yet feels the force of the principle of noblesse oblige."

"Spain prefers a possible defeat to a certain disgrace. Ministers know that the moral sympathies of the powers are with Spain, and that while hesitating to undertake the responsibility for action which might lead to a greater war they may eventually intervene from motives of self-interest and public policy on behalf of Spain."

Captain Deschamps of the Spanish auxiliary cruiser Montserrat, which arrived unexpectedly at Coruna Friday evening from Cienfuegos, having escaped the American blockading ships, reached Madrid Sunday afternoon. In spite of the existing state of siege, immense crowds awaited his coming in the approaches to the railway station. The station, the palace and other prominent places were cordoned by police.

The populace welcomed Captain Deschamps with the wildest enthusiasm, and the police surrounding the carriage in which he rode were scarcely able to restrain the surging crowd from unharnessing the horses. Captain Deschamps was driven to the Plaza de Independencia, to the residence of Marques Comillas. It is reported that he has brought dispatches from General Blanco for Senor Sagasta. There was no disturbance of order.

Senor Leon y Castillo will, on arriving at Paris, continue his negotiations with Senor Betances, the Cuban representative, for the submission of the insurgents.

MADRID, May 23.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times commenting on the situation in Cuba says:

"Whether any larger number of insurgents will ever fight for the Americans is considered extremely doubtful, but despite Spain's hope, it is equally doubtful whether General Maximo Gomez and the other influential insurgent leaders will boldly declare against American annexation. All that can be said with certainty is that the cabinet at Washington has not found and can not count upon the efficient assistance from the insurgents which it evidently expected when it rushed into war without having an army of occupation ready."

"Since the ministry has been reconstructed publicity and prominence are being given by leading organs to certain movements of troops, which seem to indicate an intention to warn all whom it may concern that Spain is ready to resist any unjustifiable schemes of aggression from whatever quarter they may come. These movements have reference to the idea that Spain may be helpful to the powers in the event of any combination against an Anglo-Saxon alliance."

The Accident to Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The secretary of war has received a brief telegram from General Brooke confirming the report of the accident at Chickamauga to a train carrying Missouri volunteers. He states that one man was killed (George Walker, Company D, First regiment) and four injured, and that the remains of the one killed have been sent to his friends in Missouri. He also says the injured men are being cared for at the hospital.

Projectiles For Warships.

READING, Pa., May 23.—On rush telegram from Washington the Carpenter steelworks late Saturday night sent 150 13-inch projectiles destined for Sampson's fleet. These weigh 1,200 pounds each and will go through anything Spanish afloat. Over 800 projectiles of somewhat smaller size are on hand, and they start today to San Francisco for Dewey at Manila.

Monitor Bound For New York.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—The old single turret monitor Jason, which has been undergoing repairs and refitting at League Island navy yard, left for New York yesterday in tow of the tug Pioneer. The Jason's crew is made up of former New York naval reserves.

Killed During a Celebration.

LORAIN, O., May 23.—During the celebration of the supposed naval victory a hosecar in a procession, Saturday night, ran over two men. Peter Snyder is dead and another man, whose name is unknown, is dying.

THE WAR REVENUE BILL.

Aldrich Thinks It Will Be a Law Before Saturday.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The present week in the senate will be given almost entirely to the continuation of the debate on the war revenue bill, and many of the best informed senators express the opinion that the consideration of the bill will be concluded before the end of the week.

Senator Aldrich said that the bill would be a law before next Saturday. Very few other senators take so hopeful a view, and most Republicans confess that they will be abundantly satisfied if the senate concludes its work on the measure by next Saturday.

AT LEAST SEVEN KILLED.

Immense Damage Also to Property by a Tornado In Arkansas.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 23.—The tornado which passed through a portion of Northwest Arkansas, Friday night, did immense damage to property and caused the death of at least seven persons. Reports of the destruction are coming in slowly and it is feared that later details will add other names to the death list.

Denied by Turks.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The imperial Ottoman legation in Washington declares that the dispatch of May 21, from Constantinople, published by the American papers, concerning the refusal by the Turkish authorities to allow American citizens to travel in the interior of the empire, is absolutely and entirely without foundation.

Removed by Van Wyck.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Mayor Van Wyck has removed two Republican police commissioners, resulting in Chief McCullagh's removal and the appointment of Devery as acting chief.

CERVERA'S SQUADRON

Reported It Will Return to Martinique to Coal.

COLLIERS ENROUTE THERE.

A British Steamer Already Near With a Supply of Coal.

MORE SHIPS MAY BE COMING.

An Unconfirmed Rumor at Gibraltar That Another Spanish Squadron Is About to Sail For Cuban Waters—Captain of a Brigantine, From Cadiz, Convinced That the Spaniards Intended to Send This Fleet to Attack American Coast Cities—Report of a Big Naval Battle Denied—People at Key West Thinks a Great Fight Is Imminent.

ST. PIERRE, Martinique, May 23.—Admiral Cervera's squadron, it is reported on good authority, will return to these waters to coal. It is known that a number of Spanish colliers are on their way to Fort de France.

The British steamer Twickenham, having been refused the privilege of coaling the Spanish torpedo-boat destroyer Terror and the hospital ship Alicante in the Fort de France harbor, it is thought these vessels will coal from her at sea and that she will then go to meet Admiral Cervera's squadron for the same purpose. The Twickenham carries 4,000 tons of coal.

Late Sunday afternoon an unknown man-of-war was sighted off the southwest coast of Martinique.

The Alicante has again changed her moorings, and the departure of the Terror and the Alicante is momentarily expected.

GIBRALTAR, May 23.—An unconfirmed rumor is in circulation here that the Spanish squadron at Cadiz is about to sail for Cuban waters.

A Spanish battery of artillery arrived Sunday afternoon at San Roque, seven miles northwest of Gibraltar and has been placed in position.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., May 23.—Captain Strong of the brigantine Energy, with a cargo of salt from Cadiz, reports that when he left Cadiz, about a fortnight ago, the greatest activity prevailed in the naval arsenal there. The two Hamburg-American liners, Columbia and Normannia, purchased to be used as auxiliary cruisers and now named the Rapido and Patria, were being rapidly armored, and the warships refitting in the harbor were loading stores and ammunition.

Captain Strong is convinced that at the time he was in Cadiz the Spanish government fully intended to send this fleet to attack American coast cities on the North Atlantic, preferably Boston. He says the Spanish populace was bitterly inflamed against English and Americans and that his crew dared not venture ashore.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The rumors of a great naval battle, current Saturday night, were disposed of by the navy department, in the following official bulletin:

"No truth in the published statement concerning an engagement off St. Nicolas Mole, Haiti, in which 12 ships were sunk."

The bureau of navigation, navy department, where official dispatches are received, was open Sunday, but the officials were engaged on routine work and there was no evidence of that activity which would attend the receipt of important information, nor of that keen expectancy which would indicate the near approach of the two fleets.

KEY WEST, May 23.—A naval battle all are convinced is only a matter of days, perhaps hours.

Speculation is still concentrated on the whereabouts of Admiral Cervera's squadron, the general opinion favoring some point on the southern coast. As both sides of the island are now patrolled by United States warships, the naval authorities will not admit the possibility of Cervera's escape without the most desperate conflict in the history of naval warfare.

Reports from Admiral Sampson's squadron say all is quiet off the northern coast of Cuba. Nothing from Commodore Schley is expected before today or tomorrow. A rumor reached here that four American warships, while bombarding Santiago de Cuba, had been driven off by the Spanish fleet, but the story is generally discredited. Where it came from is a mystery.

THE FIGHTING AT CARDENAS.

A Cuban Arriving at Key West Thinks Many Spaniards Were Killed.

KEY WEST, May 23.—Senor Ernesto Castro, a well-known lawyer, and president of the revolutionary junta of Cardenas, arrived here yesterday on the United States gunboat Annapolis. During the recent bombardment at Cardenas Senor Castro was in the bay in a small boat trying to reach the American vessels and get transportation to the United States on an important mission. He was compelled to return to the shore, where he saw and heard of the results of the bombardment.

Senor Castro says an American shell exploded in the very entrance to the Spanish Casino, shattering the building and setting it on fire. Other buildings were wrecked. Some of the shots went so far as the Triente sugar plantation, two miles in the interior. The Spanish loss of life, Senor Castro believes, to have been very heavy.

After passing four days at Piedras key Senor Castro signalled the United States gunboat Wilmington and was taken off. He says famine prevails everywhere in Cuba. In Cardenas rice is 25 cents a pound, condensed milk sells at $1.50 per can and horse flesh brings 75 cents a pound. There is no beef or bread.

The insurgents are in dire distress. Formerly provisions were smuggled from the cities, but that relief is now impossible, since the cities themselves are starving. The insurgents are trying to subsist on pepper wood and palm buds.

MUSTERING OF VOLUNTEERS.

Adjutant General Corbin Expects the Work to Be Finished This Week.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Mustering into the United States service of volunteers in the state camps was practically suspended Sunday, to be resumed, of course, today. Reports received by Adjutant General Corbin up to 11 o'clock last night, indicate that 105,000 volunteers have been mustered. It was expected that the mustering would be completed by this time, but delay has been caused by the inadequacy of the militia, both in numbers and in equipment, in several of the states.

General Corbin is of the opinion that the quota called for will be filled during the present week, within 30 days from the time the orders were sent out to the governors.

CHATTANOOGA PARK, Ga., May 23.—The Fourth Ohio regiment, under Colonel Coit, has been assigned to provost guard duty at Chattanooga by order of General Brooke, made necessary by the disorderly conduct of many of the young soldiers, who have been guilty of many lapses of discipline, in a number of cases of violence and insulting ladies in the streets.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

The Spanish steamer P. de Saturistique, for Manila from Barcelona, was ordered back from Aden to Suez.

The delay in sending troops and supplies to Dewey is due in a great part to the exorbitant demands made for transport ships.

It has been practically decided to make a second call for volunteers, although the number to be asked for has not been agreed upon.

Former Minister Polo and party sailed from Montreal to Liverpool enroute to Madrid. A United States secret service man was a passenger on the same boat.

The Spanish auxiliary cruiser Montserrat arrived at Corunna, Spain, having, it is announced, successfully eluded the American blockading squadron at Cuba.

President McKinley is directing the war to a great extent himself and he is personally planning the general movements of the army corps and naval squadrons.

Private telegraphic inquiries from Kingston, Jamaica, to Santiago concerning the Spanish squadron fail to bring any response, although the cable is in working order.

Admiral Camera, after holding a general conference with the minister of marine at Madrid, has returned to Cadiz. His fleet, it is said, will sail under sealed orders.

It is officially declared at Madrid that if the Americans cut the Cuban cable the Spaniards will retaliate by cutting the Galveston cable so as to interrupt Southern Pacific communication.

A detailed account of Admiral Sampson's 15 days' cruise from Key West to St. Thomas and return was given out. It appears that the attack on San Juan was made with the hope of catching the Spanish fleet in that harbor.

The Sixth regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, passed through Baltimore and were given an ovation by the citizens. The old regiment was mobbed while passing through the Monumental City in 1861.

Official reports from the battleship Oregon show that she does not need a cent's worth of repairs to her machinery after a continuous run of 13,000 miles. This record has never been equalled since the first iron warship was constructed.

No official news was given out at Washington touching on the movements of the opposing fleets, but the officials are expecting great events to occur at any moment. They expect the first report of a battle to be in favor of Spain, because the news will likely reach this country through Spanish cables via Madrid.

The war department is practically prepared for the invasion of Cuba, and within ten days the army will be on its way or have reached the island. General Miles will accompany the troops and supervise the initial movements, but the active and direct command will be in the hands of General Shafter. Four expeditions are to be landed in Cuba, aggregating approximately 75,000 men.

Was Admitted to the Bar—Later Went into Journalism and Literature.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 23.—Edward Bellamy, author and humanitarian, died Sunday, at his home in Chicopee Falls, in the 49th year of his age. Mr. Bellamy has been in feeble health ever since he finished his "Equality," some eight months ago, and since January has been rapidly failing.

He was born at Chicopee Falls, on March 25, 1850, and was the third son of Rev. R. K. Bellamy, for 35 years the pastor of the Baptist church at Chicopee Falls. After finishing a course at Union college, he completed his education by a year of European travel and study and by the study of law. He was at 21 years of age admitted to the bar of Hampden county, Mass.

From the legal profession he went into journalism, and for several years was assistant editor of the Springfield Union. From there he went to New York city to accept a position as editorial writer on the New York Evening Post, where he was engaged for about one year, when he returned to Springfield, and in co-partnership with his brother, C. J. Bellamy, started the Springfield Daily News. Meanwhile he published "Six to One, a Nantucket Idyl," "Dr. Heidenhoff's Process," "Miss Ludington's Sisters" and other books. It was in 1888 that his famous book, "Looking Backward," was published, the sale of which up to the present time is over 450,000 copies in America, and probably over 500,000 copies have been sold in England and other foreign countries.

Private telegraphic inquiries from Kingston, Jamaica, to Santiago concerning the Spanish squadron fail to bring any response, although the cable is in working order.

Admiral Camera, after holding a general conference with the minister of marine at Madrid, has returned to Cadiz. His fleet, it is said, will sail under sealed orders.

It is officially declared at Madrid that if the Americans cut the Cuban cable the Spaniards will retaliate by cutting the Galveston cable so as to interrupt Southern Pacific communication.

A detailed account of Admiral Sampson's 15 days' cruise from Key West to St. Thomas and return was given out. It appears that the attack on San Juan was made with the hope of catching the Spanish fleet in that harbor.

The Sixth regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, passed through Baltimore and were given an ovation by the citizens. The old regiment was mobbed while passing through the Monumental City in 1861.

Official reports from the battleship Oregon show that she does not need a cent's worth of repairs to her machinery after a continuous run of 13,000 miles. This record has never been equalled since the first iron warship was constructed.

No official news was given out at Washington touching on the movements of the opposing fleets, but the officials are expecting great events to occur at any moment. They expect the first report of a battle to be in favor of Spain, because the news will likely reach this country through Spanish cables via Madrid.

The war department is practically prepared for the invasion of Cuba, and within ten days the army will be on its way or have reached the island. General Miles will accompany the troops and supervise the initial movements, but the active and direct command will be in the hands of General Shaffer. Four expeditions are to be landed in Cuba, aggregating approximately 75,000 men.

Finished a Course at Union College, Traveled in Europe, Studied Law and Was Admitted to the Bar—Later Went into Journalism and Literature.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 23.—Edward Bellamy, author and humanitarian, died Sunday, at his home in Chicopee Falls, in the 49th year of his age. Mr. Bellamy has been in feeble health ever since he finished his "Equality," some eight months ago, and since January has been rapidly failing.

He was born at Chicopee Falls, on March 25, 1850, and was the third son of Rev. R. K. Bellamy, for 35 years the pastor of the Baptist church at Chicopee Falls. After finishing a course at Union college, he completed his education by a year of European travel and study and by the study of law. He was at 21 years of age admitted to the bar of Hampden county, Mass.

From the legal profession he went into journalism, and for several years was assistant editor of the Springfield Union. From there he went to New York city to accept a position as editorial writer on the New York Evening Post, where he was engaged for about one year, when he returned to Springfield, and in co-partnership with his brother, C. J. Bellamy, started the Springfield Daily News. Meanwhile he published "Six to One, a Nantucket Idyl," "Dr. Heidenhoff's Process," "Miss Ludington's Sisters" and other books. It was in 1888 that his famous book, "Looking Backward," was published, the sale of which up to the present time is over 450,000 copies in America, and probably over 500,000 copies have been sold in England and other foreign countries.

MAD DOG RAN ABOUT

Snapping at All With Whom It Came In Contact.

IT ATTACKED A SMALL CHILD

But Was Quickly Driven Away—Escaping From Fourth Street It Ran Into a Number of Business Houses and Caused Much Excitement.

A dog owned by Bart Green was seized with hydrophobia Saturday evening and created a great deal of excitement.

Mr. Green and his child were walking along Fourth street accompanied by the dog when the animal started on a chase after a buggy. When it returned the child made a move to pat it on the head, and the animal attempted to bite him and began snapping in a vicious way. As the dog had always been very gentle the father realized at once that something was wrong and gave the animal a kick that sent it out into the middle of the street. It gathered itself up and started up Market street, biting at everything with which it came in contact.

It ran into several stores and created wild excitement, but luckily no one was bitten. The animal then continued until it reached home in California hollow, where the people were badly frightened and locked their doors.

The animal howled all night and kept on snapping, and Sunday morning Mr. Green, armed with a revolver and a pick handle, started out to kill the dog. He fired once and the animal started to run toward him and was very close when he fired again and succeeded in wounding the animal so that it could not move, and he finished it with the pick handle.

A QUIET SUNDAY.

Very Few Drunks Were Seen on the Streets.

There was less drunkenness in the streets Saturday evening than for many months, and not an arrest was made. Yesterday the number of drunks on the streets was also very small, and parties who live near a saloon that has been doing a Sunday business for sometime say it was closed and no person could get in. The other saloons followed the example, and Second street residents now know what it is to have a quiet Sunday.

It is evident the two raids of last week had a good influence on saloon-keepers.

IN THE TIME OF WAR.

A DIGEST OF THE STERN LAWS OF HOSTILITIES.

If Our Armies Invade Cuba, Martial Law Will Probably Be Proclaimed—Rules For Bombardment of Cities—Use of Poisons and Explosive Bullets Prohibited.

For the most part Americans are little familiar with the laws of war. They know in a general way that there is something called martial law which is put in force when war is in progress in any territory, and they also know that war makes many things right that are decidedly wrong in times of peace, but few know just how far these powers extend.

On this subject the provisions of a little book called "Instructions For the Government of the Armies of the United States In the Field," by Francis Lieber, issued in 1863 by authority of President Lincoln, become of interest. According to this book, it is lawful to starve hostile belligerents, whether armed or unarmed; to destroy the lives and limbs of all enemies whose destruction is unavoidable in prosecuting the war; to capture and destroy the enemy's property and his routes or channels of commerce, and to make use of all deceptions that do not involve the breaking of faith.

If our armies should invade Cuba, our generals would probably proclaim martial law. This does not mean that all civil laws would necessarily cease. Probably the ordinary process of law would go on much as before, except at the seat of actual hostilities. It would be in the discretion of the military commanders to say just how far they would go. They might also permit the Spanish magistrates to retain their offices on taking oath of temporary allegiance to the United States. Spanish subjects would not necessarily or even probably be expelled from the United States, although they would be forbidden to communicate with their friends at home.

It is entirely permissible under the laws of war, says this treatise, for an enemy to bombard an unfortified city without giving the least warning of his purpose, although he may, if he so desires, give time for noncombatants to be removed. This is ordinarily done, though if time were in question it might easily be disregarded.

Flags, usually yellow, are put up in such cases to mark the locations of hospitals, and the enemy is required to avoid firing on them. Considering the manner in which the Spanish have murdered the rebel wounded in all hospitals that they have captured, it seems improbable that they will observe this rule. To compel them to do so we should have to resort to retaliation, and it is improbable this country would permit such a course.

Of course, it is an act of infamous bad faith for the attacked town to put up false hospital flags, though there have been occasions when the enemy has requested a town about to be bombarded to designate museums, libraries and art collections by flags, so as to avoid their destruction.

The use of poison in any manner or of explosive bullets is absolutely prohibited, and he who uses them puts himself outside the pale of civilization. The new dum-dum, or mushrooming bullet, seems not to be prohibited, though it is open to the same objection as the explosive ball. Retaliation is allowable in case of dire necessity, though its practice is strongly deprecated by all civilized powers.

The Red Cross is supposed to be absolutely inviolable. All property belonging to the government of the enemy may be seized and converted to use.

Church and school property is generally held to be exempt from permanent confiscation, though it may be temporarily used.

Museums and art works may be carried off and held pending the determination of their ownership by treaty of peace.

Private property, including money or other valuables, found on the persons of prisoners, says Mr. Lieber, is not to be confiscated except in case of extreme necessity.

As a matter of fact, there will always be some robbery sometimes, but there is less robbery than in times of peace. Correspondents, sutlers, etc., may be held as prisoners of war.

Chaplains, doctors, nurses, etc., are not except in extreme cases. Prisoners may be shot if they attempt to escape, but cannot be legally punished after recapture.

It is against the usages of modern war to refuse to give quarter except when in extreme danger through being incumbered by prisoners or in the case of troops who masquerade in the enemy's uniform or who fight without authorization by their government.

Flags of truce are inviolable, but firing is not required to cease on their appearance, and should the bearer be killed by accident it furnishes no ground for complaint.

According to the United States laws, the persons of the residents of the countries they may invade are inviolate, and any violation of this, especially in the case of women, is punishable with the most extreme rigidity.

In our civil war there was no occasion to exercise this last regulation, as no case of its violation was ever reported. It is permissible for the army to levy temporary loans or impose taxes or billet soldiers in an invaded country.

In 1874 all the countries of Europe held a conference at Brussels and agreed to certain laws of war.

The United States was not present and is not bound by these rules, but they are practically identical with those laid down in 1863.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Repartee In Congress.

In the Fifty-first congress there was a tilt between General Spinola and Elijah Adams Morse that was entertaining. The general always wore an enormous standing collar. It was so large that it is said that Tim Campbell approached him one day and tapped the collar with the ferrule of his cane, apologetically asking, "Is General Spinola within?" Mr. Morse was making a sort of a prohibition speech against the sale of intoxicating liquors in army canteens. General Spinola had interrupted him several times, and in reply the Massachusetts statesman finally twitted him upon the size of his collar. It stung the general to the quick. Taking the floor some minutes afterward, he called attention to Mr. Morse's language. "My collar," said he, "unlike the gentleman from Massachusetts, is immaculately clean, and if it was twice as high as it is and was placed around the neck of the gentleman from Massachusetts it would not serve to hide his ears."

The general was a political curio. He had a striking face and a martial air. In the Fifty-first congress he threw the house into convulsions by pointing to the painting representing a scene at the siege of Yorktown and gravely accusing Speaker Reed of counting the Hessians therein to make up a quorum.—Boston Herald.

Shot the Way the Dog Came at Him.

The other day Ole Hanson had trouble with a bellicose dog that belonged to his neighbor, a Russian of the name of Havva Drenkovitskey. The Swede shot the dog as soon as he discovered that he was not friendly to him, and the sequel found lodging in a justice's court. When Ole was proponed interrogatories by the attorney for the prosecution, he evidenced a sense of justice in framing replies that is rarely witnessed.

"What sort of a gun did you have, Mr. Hanson?" inquired the attorney.

"Es var two hole shotgun."

"Double barrel?"

"Yas, das et."

"Well, don't you think you could have scared him away?"

"Aye might of aye had not bane scare so lak deckens maesal."

"Why didn't you take the other end of the gun and scare him away?"

"Val, master lawyer, vy didn't de dog com for mae oder end first ef haev want to do det way?"

The lawyer is still wondering if there wasn't extenuating circumstances connected with the shooting.—Denver Times.

Sleight of Hand In Church.

Many years ago, when Joseph Marsden lived in Hawaii, he attended church on Sunday morning in Hilo. Mr. Marsden was then noted for his skill in legerdemain. When Dr. —— passed around the contribution bag at a Sunday service, Mr. Marsden held up a $10 gold piece between his thumb and forefinger so that Dr. —— could plainly see it. He then placed his hand over the bag, palmed the goldpiece and dropped it in a silver quarter. Dr. —— returned to the table with his collection. After the service he emptied the bag on a table, but could not find the $10 goldpiece. He shook the bag repeatedly, turned over the small pile of contributions, got down on the floor and looked under the table, walked down the aisle, looking closely at the cracks in the floor, felt in his own pockets, fearing that he had made some mistake, and then went home wondering at the strange loss of the goldpiece. Some time afterward the deceiver quietly sent the goldpiece to the church.—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

Any One Would Do.

Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts tells a good story on himself and President Eliot of Harvard. When Phillips Brooks was elected bishop, President Eliot met Dr. Lawrence, who was then dean of the Episcopal Theological school at Cambridge and said to him: "The church has made the greatest mistake of a lifetime. Brooks was the pivot around which we revolved in Boston. Now you have spread him all over the state. Any one would have done for bishop."

Years after, when Phillips Brooks had gone to his reward and Dean Lawrence had been chosen in his place, he met President Eliot in the street again. The latter was warm in his congratulations. "My dear bishop," he said, "I must congratulate you. The church couldn't have made a better selection. I thought you should have been the choice when Brooks was chosen."

Miss Cisneros to Marry.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros is to marry Carlos Carbonel, former Cuban banker, nominated by President McKinley to be a lieutenant and aide on the staff of Major General Fitzhugh Lee. To Carbonel was entrusted the duty of accompanying the girl to New York. This companionship ripened into love.

Visitors Always Go to Its Camp.

THEY ALL LIKE M'KINLEY'S OWN

There Is Much Talk of the Boys Going to Manila or Cuba—Improving In Appearance and Drilling—Foraging Is the Order of the Day.

CAMP ALGER, May 21.—[Special]—It is fortunate for the boys of the Eighth that their new campaign hats fit so well. Otherwise there is danger of them suffering from swelled heads. There is no use denying it. We are the talk of Camp Alger and all the troops here assembled. McKinley's Own seems to be the staff, and every body knows it. Of course we bear our particular part of the honor with the dignity becoming East Liverpool, and behave in an exemplary manner. You understand, however, that exemplary in camp and the same condition at home are somewhat different, but we have adapted ourselves to circumstances and are now pretty good solders.

Almost constant drilling has done much to improve the appearance of the regiment and particularly of Company E. The boys look better, they have a soldierly bearing almost unknown when they left home, and all look well. They do not weigh as much, but the bloom of health is on many a cheek in spite of the rain.

A number of distinguished visitors have been here, and all have been well received. Congressman Taylor manifests the greatest interest in the regiment, and it is said that he has inquired as to our ultimate destination. But whether he has been successful no one knows. It is rumored that we are going to Cuba, and there is another that we will go to the Philippines. Just now it seems that we are not to stay very long near Washington.

There has been a considerable amount of foraging since we reached here, caused undoubtedly by the nature of government rations. The food differs somewhat from what we had as state troops, and the change is not relished. Company E now has a complete kitchen outfit and a good cook, and if we get enough to eat no one will have cause to regret.

There are a great many soldiers here and others are constantly arriving.

All the boys want to be remembered to the East Liverpool people.

ENJOYING THE TRIP.

The Tenth Is Speeding Across the Country.

GALESBURG, ILL., May 20.—[Special]—The Tenth Pennsylvania is enjoying its trip to the full, and the weather is all that could be desired. All along the route we have received a royal welcome, especially from womanhood which is intensely patriotic. Old and young women grasp the hands of officers and men, bid them goodbye and wish them God speed, hoping success will attend their arms and the boys in blue will return home in safety. This feature has been repeated in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and the outlook is that it will be the same in Iowa and the adjacent country. The coming of the Tenth has been heralded all over the country, as we are the first volunteer regiment to pass through on the way to the Philippines.

The exercise given horses and men at Mendota will be repeated at points designated by Colonel Hawkins, who has charge of the regiment and of the First battalion, occupying 12 cars. Lieutenant Colonel Barnett is in charge of the Second battalion. Discipline is being enforced although the men receive the best treatment. At many points the citizens furnish hot coffee to the troops. All recruits will be uniformed and armed at San Francisco, and rifle practice indulged in if possible, as many of the new men have had no intimate acquaintance with firearms. Nearly all the old members of the Guard are sharpshooters or marksmen, thanks to the rigid rules which the Keystone state enforced, and the boys will give a good account of themselves in case of actual contact with the Spaniards upon the battlefield. The soldier lads dread the long trip by water, but they will face the music manfully. Some of the officers and men expect to be at home again in 12 months, while others believe they will be held by Uncle Samuel for the full two years of enlistment. The men are delighted with the level country and splendid land-

We certainly shall feel grateful, a blessing will come back upon us, if we succeed in any degree in evoking a fresh courage, a new hope, a wiser resolution. Let us, let all remember, as our greatest of philosophers has said, that the essence of life is not in compensations, but in character. Of this no one can rob us, this none can diminish or make less precious, if in every trial, in every loss, in every misfortune, we are true to ourselves.—Christian Leader.

A Theological Point.

That jovial Irishman and sturdy Calvinist, The Rev. John Hemphill, was having a stiff discussion with a Roman Catholic fellow countryman respecting the propriety of the prayers for the dead, the pastor of Calvary church, of course, opposing the practice. Neither of the controversialists would yield an inch. Finally the layman tried a specious argument:

"Now, doctor," he said, "if one of your parishioners should die and bequeath you $50,000, wouldn't you pray for him?"

"No, sir," replied the stalwart defender of his faith positively. "I wouldn't pray for him. But I would pray for another like him!"—San Francisco News Letter.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Label at the head of their columns.

REMEMBER THE MAINE.

THOSE Spaniards who are still shouting over the defeat (?) of Dewey are destined to a rude awakening one of these days.

THE press censorship exercised by the government is one of the stern necessities of cruel war, but it is undoubtedly a most useful institution for Uncle Sam.

A PRESS dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Russia objects to the United States occupying the Philippines. Naturally. But what is Russia going to do about it?

CONGRESS occasionally discusses some important legislation, but the chaps who talk to the galleries these days waste their breath. The country wants something more interesting than words.

EVERY time President McKinley chops off a piece of red tape in military and naval affairs he rises another notch in the estimation of the people. Battles fought on paper are seldom productive of results.

SYMPATHETIC EUROPE.

While the governments of Continental Europe have not dared to interfere in behalf of Spain, the public press has been doing its best to mould opinion against the United States. That it will in a measure be successful there is no doubt, but it certainly seems anything but manly for the men who administer affairs in these countries to declare open neutrality, and then throw out their venom from the protection of a shield which cannot now be pierced. It is probable what they would style a stroke of diplomacy; and thus we can add cowardice to lying and the other attributes of the successful diplomat.

BALTIMORE'S DUTY.

In welcoming the Sixth Massachusetts infantry as friends and bidding them Godspeed the city of Baltimore has shown that there is no longer a North and a South, but that all the people of the nation have united under one banner. Many years ago another Sixth Massachusetts infantry passed through the streets of the city on the way to the front, and there was shed what some historians have called the first blood of the civil war. Now the hostile feeling has passed away. Instead of a mob armed with clubs and pistols, the New England boys were greeted by the officers of the city, and when once a regiment bearing that name resisted showers of stones, it now encountered nothing more disagreeable than showers of flowers. War has its uses, and prominent among the uses of the American-Spanish conflict is the binding together, more firmly than ever, the union of states into the greatest nation under heaven.

WANDERED FROM HOME.

The Little One Fell Asleep on the Sidewalk.

A three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conkle, of Third street, wandered from its home Saturday afternoon and for several hours its whereabouts were unknown.

Its mother reported the fact to the fire station, and after Officer Terrence searched a short time the child was found in comfortable quarters at the residence of George Sebring in Fifth street. The child had fallen asleep on the sidewalk and had been given a more comfortable bed awaiting a claimant.

OUR CAUSE IS JUST

That Is Why We Will Humble the Spanish,

UPLIFT SUFFERING HUMANITY

And Advance the Interests of Civilization, Bringing About a Universal Peace—Prof. O. S. Reed's Eloquent Sermon Dealt With the Present War.

The Christian church was filled last night with an attentive audience who heard Prof. O. S. Reed deliver the best sermon he has ever preached in this place. "Is the Spanish-American War Justifiable" was his subject. He said:

"That Christianity is to fill the whole earth with its glory is a prophetic declaration. That this is God's eternal purpose, is sustained by His word. That the time will come, when men shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks, when nation shall not lift up sword against nation neither shall they learn war any more. These prophetic utterances, antedating the advent of Christ by seven centuries, have throughout the scriptures been reinforced oftentimes and find their culmination in apocalyptic sayings, wherein 'the kingdom of this world shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ.'

"That we are approaching that time is a quite general belief. You ask, if this is true. What means the marshaling of armed legions? The reverberation of cannon's boom across the bosom of ocean's waters? The terrible clash of arms, the mighty tread of war?

"We answer, it is to be a conquered peace.

"No one for a moment will question the fact that God, in his dealings with nations, has recognized the art of war as being a means to bring about mighty ends; that men imbued with the spirit of the living God have been nerved to deeds of daring, sustained in high and holy purposes, and aided in accomplishment. All history is a commentary on the trite saying, 'that truth is mighty and will prevail.'

"The statement is pointedly made, that when the children of Israel were wandering through the wilderness upon being attacked by the Amalekites, that the Lord had sworn, or as Ewald makes it to read, 'I swear,' said Moses, 'with hand uplifted to the throne of Jehovah, that He proclaims war in Amelike from generation to generation.'

"History faithfully chronicles the fulfillment of the oath. Age after age the Hebrews hated and sought to destroy them, till the last known representative of the race, Haman, was hanged through the influence of Esther, the Jewess, at the court of the king of Persia.

"The destruction of this people was complete, and God's hand was in it.

"The world's decisive battles have changed its ever revolving drama; changed its currents of thought, changed its whole history.

"Men have speculated as to what would have been the effect had victory exchanged places with defeat in many of earth's battles. For instance, had the fortunes of war been with Darius rather than with Alexander, with Hannibal rather than Nero, with Varus rather than Arminius, with Harold rather than William, with the Spanish Armada rather than English hosts, with Napoleon rather than the Duke of Wellington, with Lee rather than Grant. These and other battles that might be enumerated changed the policy of nations; changed the map of the world.

"Although the promptings of men might have been from selfish motives; although the vultures of war were feeding on the carcasses of men, above it all, and through it all, the spirit of the living God was slowly, it may be, but none the less surely bringing about his eternal purposes.

"Wars have wrought mighty progress, and this progress has been characterized by the advance of civilization, enlightenment and Christianity.

"The true philosopher, overhanging the clouds of war, a rainbow of promise of the dawning of peace—peace universal.

"For centuries Spain has been animated by a thirst for power, a greed for gold. Once mistress of the seas—in the van of all nations in conquest, she has gradually dropped from her high estate because she has defied the will of God. There was a time when the treasures of the earth were hers—when her territory was greater than that of ancient Rome. The God of battles frustrated her purposes when she hurled her Armada against England, through the agency of storm, thereby wresting from her control of the commerce of nations. For centuries she has compelled tribute from her dependencies in such measure as to keep them in grossest ignorance, and most abject servitude. Cruel and rigorous has been her rule in Cuba and the Philippines, a policy which has well nigh blotted out the 300,000 gentle, indolent aborigines of Cuba and decimated the ranks of those of the Philippines.

"Her treaties, upon occasion of an uprising of these people, have been but hollow mockeries. Taxation, such as to become a confiscation of all property, has characterized her policy, and when Cubans dared assert themselves she pursued toward them a policy that obtained during the dark ages. The United States, God's restored Israel, could not longer maintain her neutrality and witness horrible butcheries, barbarous practices and not intervene. War now is on us. War, horrible war. Is it justifiable? Is it the spirit of Christ? Christ, who drove out, with a scourge of small cords, those who desecrated the temple of God. Will Christ smile on those, who with scourge of war, drive out those who trample upon every precept of His father? Will He be with us in the tide of war?

"We believe we can forecast the result. We believe we see, with the ushering in of the twentieth century, a condition of things calculated to give an ignorant, degraded people a mighty uplift.

"In war is a marvelous transforming power for good. A conquered peace, with Cuba and the Philippines under the protectorate of the United States, will insure to those people, independence of thought, activity in cultivation of art and acquisition of science, and better than all, an emergence from the barbarism of superstition out into the glorious gospel light.

"Our nation sought not this war. Conquest has no place in its vocabulary. The idea of acquired territory is contrary to its purpose, but it does mean a proclamation of 'liberty throughout hitherto desolated lands,' to all the people thereof.

"Our attitude, is not, cannot be understood by old monarchies, but when war clouds roll away and sweet winged peace hovers over restored prosperity, finding this nation exercising only a protectorate over long prostrated lands, we will be understood. And when these lands learn that the blessed book of books is the basic rock of our civilization. When they accept its teachings, as they are destined to do, will a mighty impetus be given to the oncoming age when 'Swords shall be beaten into plowshares and spears in pruning hooks. When nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they have war any more.'

SPKE OF CAPTAIN PALMER.

Doctor Holmes Paid Him a Splendid Tribute.

Rev. Dr. Holmes, president of Beaver college, who occupied the pulpit at the First M. E. church during the morning service, paid a glowing compliment to Color Bearer Palmer, of the Tenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. In speaking of the men who had left home and families to go to the Philippines he mentioned Color Bearer Palmer and stated that he had made a great sacrifice in giving up his home and business and some thought he had made too great a sacrifice, and owing to his advanced age it was a greater sacrifice than could be expected. He closed by stating that he had no doubt that Color Bearer Palmer would do credit to the city and would be among the first to plant Old Glory upon the Philippine islands.

Second Presbyterian.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Taylor, of Mt. Jackson, Pa., preached at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday, his evening sermon being based on "And Ye Are Complete in Him."

The sermon was a beautiful exposition of the subject in hand, and was highly appreciated. He ended with: "It was Emerson who said, 'Hitch your wagon to a star,' but I say to you, join yourself to Jesus Christ, and your life will be a success, for ye are complete in him."

First Presbyterian.

Rev. Dr. Donaldson, of the Wooster University, occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church yesterday and delivered two eloquent addresses. In the evening he spoke of the vast resources of America, and said that the capture of the Philippine islands would make the country be recognized among the nations of the world and would do much toward outlining the policy of the United States in the future.

The Army Medical Library.

Both library and museum date their existence from the late civil war, whose horrors and sufferings prompted a profound study of military medicine and surgery. In 1862, Surgeon General Hammond directed all medical officers of the army "to collect and forward to the office of the surgeon general all specimens of morbid anatomy, surgical or medical, which may be regarded as valuable, together with projectiles and foreign bodies removed, and such other matters as may prove of interest." The office of the surgeon general possessed about 350 books on medical subjects at that time, when congress legislated to appropriate $5,000 yearly for the purchase of reference books to be used in the compilation of the "Medical and Surgical History of the War." In 1865, Dr. John S. Billings, U. S. A., was placed in charge of the embryo enterprise and his wide, grasping mind instantly seized this opportunity to lay the foundation of a national medical library. The success of this scheme, under his energetic administration as curator for 30 years has been phenomenal.

Since April, 1897, Dr. J. C. Merrill has been in charge of the library, which at present contains on its shelves 120,000 volumes of bound books, and more than 200,000 pamphlets, besides a valuable collection of atlases of plates and engravings, and is acknowledged to be "the most complete collection of medical literature in the world."—Godey's Magazine.

New Zealand mutton.

The story of a New Zealand sheep designed for the London market may be very briefly told. It is taken from the run to the slaughter house, killed, dressed and transferred to the cooling room. The skin and superfluous fat are retained; after ten hours' cooling the carcass goes into the refrigerating room for 36 hours. Thence it goes to the storing room, and when it has been enveloped in its cotton "shirt" and labeled is ready for its journey over sea. The steamers which bring the meat to us through the tropics have, of course, to be fitted with refrigerating appliances, and our sheep takes its place among thousands of others, some of the boats being fitted to carry as many as 70,000 carcasses at one time.

There are 88 vessels engaged in the trade, capable of transporting 6,700,000 sheep per annum. Arrived in the Thames, the barges come alongside the vessel, and the sheep is transferred to a cold storage station. Here it may lie for weeks or for months if necessary, so that—an important commercial advantage—there is no necessity for immediate sale on a depressed market.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Label at the head of their columns.

REMEMBER THE MAINE.

THOSE Spaniards who are still shouting over the defeat (?) of Dewey are destined to a rude awakening one of these days.

THE press censorship exercised by the government is one of the stern necessities of cruel war, but it is undoubtedly a most useful institution for Uncle Sam.

A PRESS dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Russia objects to the United States occupying the Philippines. Naturally. But what is Russia going to do about it?

CONGRESS occasionally discusses some important legislation, but the chaps who talk to the galleries these days waste their breath. The country wants something more interesting than words.

EVERY time President McKinley chops off a piece of red tape in military and naval affairs he rises another notch in the estimation of the people. Battles fought on paper are seldom productive of results.

SYMPATHETIC EUROPE.

While the governments of Continental Europe have not dared to interfere in behalf of Spain, the public press has been doing its best to mould opinion against the United States. That it will in a measure be successful there is no doubt, but it certainly seems anything but manly for the men who administer affairs in these countries to declare open neutrality, and then throw out their venom from the protection of a shield which cannot now be pierced. It is probable what they would style a stroke of diplomacy; and thus we can add cowardice to lying and the other attributes of the successful diplomat.

BALTIMORE'S DUTY.

In welcoming the Sixth Massachusetts infantry as friends and bidding them Godspeed the city of Baltimore has shown that there is no longer a North and a South, but that all the people of the nation have united under one banner. Many years ago another Sixth Massachusetts infantry passed through the streets of the city on the way to the front, and there was shed what some historians have called the first blood of the civil war. Now the hostile feeling has passed away. Instead of a mob armed with clubs and pistols, the New England boys were greeted by the officers of the city, and when once a regiment bearing that name resisted showers of stones, it now encountered nothing more disagreeable than showers of flowers. War has its uses, and prominent among the uses of the American-Spanish conflict is the binding together, more firmly than ever, the union of states into the greatest nation under heaven.

WANDERED FROM HOME.

The Little One Fell Asleep on the Side-walk.

A three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conkle, of Third street, wandered from its home Saturday afternoon and for several hours its whereabouts were unknown.

Its mother reported the fact to the fire station, and after Officer Terrence searched a short time the child was found in comfortable quarters at the residence of George Sebring in Fifth street. The child had fallen asleep on the sidewalk and had been given a more comfortable bed awaiting a claimant.

OUR CAUSE IS JUST

That Is Why We Will Humble the Spanish,

UPLIFT SUFFERING HUMANITY

And Advance the Interests of Civilization, Bringing About a Universal Peace—Prof. O. S. Reed's Eloquent Sermon Dealt With the Present War.

The Christian church was filled last night with an attentive audience who heard Prof. O. S. Reed deliver the best sermon he has ever preached in this place. "Is the Spanish-American War Justifiable" was his subject. He said:

"That Christianity is to fill the whole earth with its glory is a prophetic declaration. That this is God's eternal purpose, is sustained by His word. That the time will come, when men shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks, when nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. These prophetic utterances, antedating the advent of Christ by seven centuries, have throughout the scriptures been reinforced oftentimes and find their culmination in apocalyptic sayings, wherein 'the kingdom of this world shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ.'

"That we are approaching that time is a quite general belief. You ask, if this be true. What means the marshaling of armed legions? The reverberation of cannon's boom across the bosom of ocean's waters? The terrible clash of arms, the mighty tread of war?

"We answer, it is to be a conquered peace.

"No one for a moment will question the fact that God, in his dealings with nations, has recognized the art of war as being a means to bring about mighty ends; that men imbued with the spirit of the living God have been nerved to deeds of daring, sustained in high and holy purposes, and aided in accomplishment. All history is a commentary on the trite saying, 'that truth is mighty and will prevail.'

"The statement is pointedly made, that when the children of Israel were wandering through the wilderness upon being attacked by the Amalekites, that the Lord had sworn, or as Ewald makes it to read, 'I swear,' said Moses, 'with hand uplifted to the throne of Jehovah, that He proclaims war in Amelike from generation to generation.'

"History faithfully chronicles the fulfillment of the oath. Age after age the Hebrews hated and sought to destroy them, till the last known representative of the race, Haman, was hanged through the influence of Esther, the Jewess, at the court of the king of Persia.

"The destruction of this people was complete, and God's hand was in it.

"The world's decisive battles have changed its ever revolving drama; changed its currents of thought, changed its whole history.

"Men have speculated as to what would have been the effect had victory exchanged places with defeat in many of earth's battles. For instance, had the fortunes of war been with Darius rather than with Alexander, with Hannibal rather than Nero, with Varus rather than Arminius, with Harold rather than William, with the Spanish Armada rather than English hosts, with Napoleon rather than the Duke of Wellington, with Lee rather than Grant. These and other battles that might be enumerated changed the policy of nations; changed the map of the world.

"Although the promptings of men might have been from selfish motives; although the vultures of war were feeding on the carcasses of men, above it all, and through it all, the spirit of the living God was slowly, it may be, but none the less surely bringing about his eternal purposes.

"Wars have wrought mighty progress, and this progress has been characterized by the advance of civilization, enlightenment and Christianity.

"The true philosopher, overhanging the clouds of war, a rainbow of promise of the dawning of peace—peace universal.

"For centuries Spain has been animated by a thirst for power, a greed for gold. Once mistress of the seas—in the van of all nations in conquest, she has gradually dropped from her high estate because she has defied the will of God. There was a time when the treasures of the earth were her's—when her territory was greater than that of ancient Rome. The God of battles frustrated her purposes when she hurled her Armada against England, through the agency of storm, thereby wresting from her control of the commerce of nations. For centuries she has compelled tribute from her dependencies in such measure as to keep them in grossest ignorance, and most abject servitude. Cruel and rigorous has been her rule in Cuba and the Philippines, a policy which has well nigh blotted out the 300,000 gentle, indolent aborigines of Cuba and decimated the ranks of those of the Philippines.

"Her treaties, upon occasion of an uprising of these people, have been but hollow mockeries. Taxation, such as to become a confiscation of all property, has characterized her policy, and when Cubans dared assert themselves she pursued toward them a policy that obtained during the dark ages. The United States, God's restored Israel, could not longer maintain her neutrality and witness horrible butcheries, barbarous practices and not intervene. War now is on us. War, horrible war. Is it justifiable? Is it the spirit of Christ? Christ, who drove out, with a scourge of small cords, those who desecrated the temple of God. Will Christ smile on those, who with scourge of war, drive out those who trample upon every precept of His father? Will He be with us in the tide of war?

"We believe we can forecast the result. We believe we see, with the ushering in of the twentieth century, a condition of things calculated to give an ignorant, degraded people a mighty uplift.

"In war is a marvelous transforming power for good. A conquered peace, with Cuba and the Philippines under the protectorate of the United States, will insure to those people, independence of thought, activity in cultivation of art and acquisition of science, and better than all, an emergence from the barbarism of superstition out into the glorious gospel light.

"Our nation sought not this war. Conquest has no place in its vocabulary. The idea of acquired territory is contrary to its purpose, but it does mean a proclamation of 'liberty throughout hitherto desolated lands,' to all the people thereof.

"Our attitude, is not, cannot be understood by old monarchies, but when war clouds roll away and sweet winged peace hovers over restored prosperity, finding this nation exercising only a protectorate over long prostrated lands, we will be understood. And when these lands learn that the blessed book of books is the basic rock of our civilization. When they accept its teachings, as they are destined to do, will a mighty impetus be given to the oncoming age when 'Swords shall be beaten into plowshares and spears in pruning hooks. When nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they have war any more.'

SPOKE OF CAPTAIN PALMER.

Doctor Holmes Paid Him a Splendid Tribute.

Rev. Dr. Holmes, president of Beaver college, who occupied the pulpit at the First M. E. church during the morning service, paid a glowing compliment to Color Bearer Palmer, of the Tenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. In speaking of the men who had left home and families to go to the Philippines he mentioned Color Bearer Palmer and stated that he had made a great sacrifice in giving up his home and business and some thought he had made too great a sacrifice, and owing to his advanced age it was a greater sacrifice than could be expected. He closed by stating that he had no doubt that Color Bearer Palmer would do credit to the city and would be among the first to plant Old Glory upon the Philippine islands.

Second Presbyterian.

Rev. Dr. W. M. Taylor, of Mt. Jackson, Pa., preached at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday, his evening sermon being based on "And Ye Are Complete in Him."

The sermon was a beautiful exposition of the subject in hand, and was highly appreciated. He ended with: "It was Emerson who said, 'Hitch your wagon to a star,' but I say to you, join yourself to Jesus Christ, and your life will be a success, for ye are complete in him."

First Presbyterian.

Rev. Dr. Donaldson, of the Wooster University, occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church yesterday and delivered two eloquent addresses. In the evening he spoke of the vast resources of America, and said that the capture of the Philippine islands would make the country be recognized among the nations of the world and would do much toward outlining the policy of the United States in the future.

POOR OLD ITALY

Thinks the Blockade Is Not Effective

AND IS LOUDLY PROTESTING

An English Vessel Captured While Attempting to Break Through the Blockade—The Matter Is Being Investigated. Another Spanish Prize Falls to the Lot of a Cruiser.

LONDON, May 23.—[Special]—The expected has happened, and Italy has shown its real colors in the Spanish-American war.

A dispatch comes from Rome by way of Paris this morning which says that Italy has officially protested against the blockade of Cuban ports by an American fleet on the ground that the blockade is not effective.

Italy has threatened to take this action a number of times, and no surprise was expressed here.

A BRITISH VESSEL

Was Brought Into Key West as a Prize.

KEY WEST, May 23.—[Special]—The British steamer Ardanmohr was brought into this port this morning by a prize crew from the Osceola. She was captured while attempting to break through the blockade, after discharging her cargo on the Cuban shore.

An investigation has already been set on foot as the British captain is vigorously protesting.

ANOTHER PRIZE.

It Fell to the Lot of an American Cruiser.

ST. THOMAS, May 23.—[Special]—A vessel has just arrived at this port from San Juan, and reports the capture of a Spanish bark off that place Saturday afternoon by an American cruiser.

Spanish commerce has almost been swept from these waters by the American fleet, but an occasional boat risks passing the Americans.

The Eighth Is the Crack Regiment in Camp Alger.

A special dispatch to the Cleveland Leader from Washington says:

"The Eighth Ohio is regarded as the crack regiment in camp. The members are thoroughly equipped, well drilled, enthusiastic, and present a fine appearance. Their hospital service is the best and most complete at Falls Church. Two men of the Eighth are under the weather. One of them is suffering from a cold, and the other is in the throes of acute indigestion because he stuffed his stomach with pies and salt pork—a combination warranted to kill. Otherwise the general health of the regiment is very good, as are the spirits."

AWARDED CONTRACTS.

Some of the Lucky Ones When Bids Were Opened.

Clerk Hanley today at noon opened the bids for the grading of Minerva street, and the paving of Monroe, Jefferson and Jackson streets.

H. S. Rinehart and Ryan & McLaughlin were the only bidders. The contract for the grading of Minerva street will be awarded to McLaughlin at 23 $\frac{3}{4}$ cents a cubic yard. Rinehart was the lowest on the streets, bidding 54 cents for sidewalks; 76 cents for paving Monroe. For Jefferson, 54 and 74 cents. Jackson street, 54 and 72 cents. Rinehart's bondsmen are Smith Fowler and T. F. Manley.

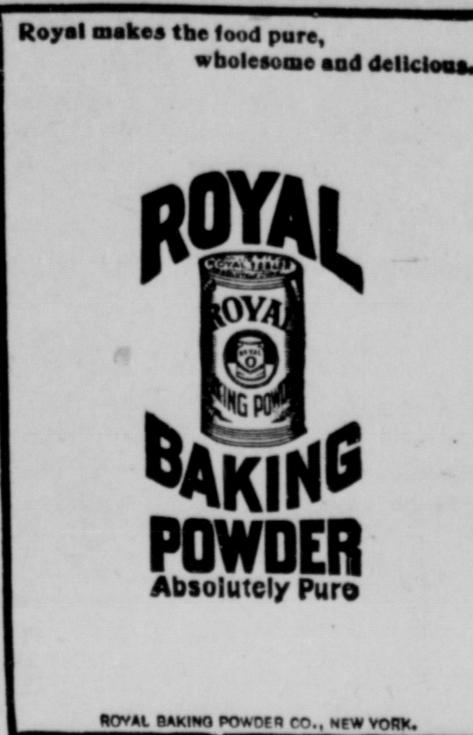

CARPENTER ROBBED.

His Pocketbook Was Taken and Left Him Penniless.

J. A. Searight, of Beaver, but now employed in this city, was robbed last Saturday of $15 in bills and some small change.

Searight was working in the first floor of a residence being built on Lincoln avenue, and had occasion to go to the second floor for some tools. While upstairs the money was taken from his vest, hanging in a back room, and it is thought some young boys playing about the house were the thieves. The matter is being investigated.

T. B. Murphy & Son will have a car load of flowers on Wednesday morning for Decoration Day.

The Fare and the Fine.

A good story is told of a certain Scotch bailie who, on rising one morning, found that he had overslept himself and had but a few minutes in which to keep a most important appointment. Making a hurried toilet, he rushed from the house and hailed a passing jehu.

"Drive me," he said to the man, "to the courts of justice with all possible speed. On no account delay an instant."

Faithful to his instructions, the driver urged his steed to its very utmost. Faster and faster they went until, after an exciting drive, he deposited his fare at his destination in time for the appointment, but not before he had damaged a passing vehicle in his mad career. The bailie, on alighting, handed him his fare, with the addition of a substantial tip, and then, to the man's astonishment, pressed 30 shillings into his hand, at the same time saying: "Here's 30 shillings, my man. You will be brought before me tomorrow for furious driving, and I shall fine you that amount."

Got Off Easy.

A friend of Richard Mansfield says that one day a would be playwright brought to the actor a play for him to read. It was execrably bad. The writer, by diplomacy more artful than anything in his play, reached the actor's presence and demanded a verdict. Mr. Mansfield felt it a kindness to point out to the fellow the mistakes he had made. But the tyro waxed wroth. "Do you know that play cost me a year's hard labor?" he exclaimed.

Mr. Mansfield, with imperturbable grace, replied: "My dear man, you are fortunate. A more just judge would have made it ten years. He really would."

He Wanted to Fight.

A drunken individual Saturday evening tried to start a fight in Broadway with a member of Nowling's orchestra. The member of the orchestra laughed at him and the fellow returned with his crowd a short time later, but there was no fight.

A special dispatch to the Cleveland Leader from Washington says:

"The Eighth Ohio is regarded as the crack regiment in camp. The members are thoroughly equipped, well drilled, enthusiastic, and present a fine appearance. Their hospital service is the best and most complete at Falls Church. Two men of the Eighth are under the weather. One of them is suffering from a cold, and the other is in the throes of acute indigestion because he stuffed his stomach with pies and salt pork—a combination warranted to kill. Otherwise the general health of the regiment is very good, as are the spirits."

AWARDED CONTRACTS.

Some of the Lucky Ones When Bids Were Opened.

Clerk Hanley today at noon opened the bids for the grading of Minerva street, and the paving of Monroe, Jefferson and Jackson streets.

H. S. Rinehart and Ryan & McLaughlin were the only bidders. The contract for the grading of Minerva street will be awarded to McLaughlin at 23½ cents a cubic yard. Rinehart was the lowest on the streets, bidding 54 cents for sidewalks; 76 cents for paving Monroe. For Jefferson, 54 and 74 cents. Jackson street, 54 and 72 cents. Rinehart's bondsmen are Smith Fowler and T. F. Manley.

CARPENTER ROBBED.

His Pocketbook Was Taken and Left Him Penniless.

J. A. Searight, of Beaver, but now employed in this city, was robbed last Saturday of $15 in bills and some small change.

Searight was working in the first floor of a residence being built on Lincoln avenue, and had occasion to go to the second floor for some tools. While upstairs the money was taken from his vest, hanging in a back room, and it is thought some young boys playing about the house were the thieves. The matter is being investigated.

T. B. Murphy & Son will have a car load of flowers on Wednesday morning for Decoration Day.

The Fare and the Fine.

A good story is told of a certain Scotch bailie who, on rising one morning, found that he had overslept himself and had but a few minutes in which to keep a most important appointment. Making a hurried toilet, he rushed from the house and hailed a passing jehu.

"Drive me," he said to the man, "to the courts of justice with all possible speed. On no account delay an instant."

Faithful to his instructions, the driver urged his steed to its very utmost. Faster and faster they went until, after an exciting drive, he deposited his fare at his destination in time for the appointment, but not before he had damaged a passing vehicle in his mad career. The bailie, on alighting, handed him his fare, with the addition of a substantial tip, and then, to the man's astonishment, pressed 30 shillings into his hand, at the same time saying: "Here's 30 shillings, my man. You will be brought before me tomorrow for furious driving, and I shall fine you that amount."

Got Off Easy.

A friend of Richard Mansfield says that one day a would be playwright brought to the actor a play for him to read. It was execrably bad. The writer, by diplomacy more artful than anything in his play, reached the actor's presence and demanded a verdict. Mr. Mansfield felt it a kindness to point out to the fellow the mistakes he had made. But the tyro waxed wroth. "Do you know that play cost me a year's hard labor!" he exclaimed.

Mr. Mansfield, with imperturbable grace, replied: "My dear man, you are fortunate. A more just judge would have made it ten years. He really would."

He Wanted to Fight.

A drunken individual Saturday evening tried to start a fight in Broadway with a member of Nowling's orchestra. The member of the orchestra laughed at him and the fellow returned with his crowd a short time later, but there was no fight.

Some of the Sick.

Samuel Young, the little son of John Young, East End, is ill with an attack of appendicitis.

Miss Emma Finley, of East End, is recovering from a serious illness.

THE NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

TRIBUTE TO GLADSTONE

Doctor Reager Did Not Forget the Dead Statesman.

HE WAS A DEVOUT CHRISTIAN

Something of the Life of Savonarola—Reverend McKee Preached Presbyterianism. Reverend Lowry Delivered an Excellent Sermon.

In his sermon yesterday morning on "The Place of Refuge," among other things Doctor Reager said:

"The death of William E. Gladstone calls anew the attention of the world to the grace of Jesus Christ, by which such characters are formed. After everything else is said of the greatness of England's greatest statesman, this is the climax: 'Gladstone was a devout Christian, a humble follower of Jesus of Nazareth.' At the cross of Christ began the reformation, the ultimate of which shall be a world regenerated from vice, oppression, ignorance and superstition.

"Four hundred years ago tomorrow in the beautiful city of Florence, Italy, in the public square, surrounded by bishops, priests and a vast multitude of spectators, Savonarola, the reformer, priest of San-Marco, was strangled and burned, because he plead for the purity of the church and the liberty of the people. The urn of history holds his ashes in sacred keeping. They have been an inspiration to heroic souls in every land for 400 years. Mazzini and Garibaldi struck for Italy under this inspiration and the sunny land of art and song is free. Within the shadow of the vatican, from which issued the decree for the reformer's torture and death, tomorrow will rise the grateful praises of freemen to the memory of the martyred priest, who was burned for his fidelity to Jesus. God's work and God's workmen are alike immortal."

First Presbyterian.

"And he led them forth by a right way that they might go to a habitation," was the text chosen by Rev. Mr. Lowry. He said:

"God leads us by the right hand, and there are three steps in the journey. They are separation from the old life, pursuit of the new life, and our destination. The old life is a picture of the condition of heathenism. Many people are satisfied with the world and have failed to see the sin and bondage in which they dwell. Christ offers no flowery beds of ease, while the world has its delights. The wages of sin is death. The Christian loves at long range, using the telescope rather than the microscope. Even the Savior was sustained by promise of reward."

"We are in the pilgrimage made acquainted with the providence of God. We may not know the way but He knows it. The Israelites' journey was an example of God's promise. Order arose from confusion, and law never had a finer expression.

"England, the Anglo-Saxon people, does honor to Gladstone. The grand old leader has his counterpart in the leader of the Israelites to the promised land.

"We must all go to school to God. The virtues must be cultivated. Heaven must be near us before it can be about us. We sometimes think God makes mistakes, but we are confronted with overwhelming evidence of divine wisdom. He is slow to anger and plenteous in mercy, or we might not have so prospered."

"Criticism of the war with Spain is general. Conservatism may be the best and safest policy. We must ever look to the God of battle for success. God is slow sometimes, as our poor faith may prompt us to think. What we take for the burden to weigh us down to earth may prove to be the wings to take us to eternal glory."

Second Presbyterian.

Reverend McKee, of the Second Presbyterian church, preached on "The Westminster Assembly," this year being the 250 anniversary of the completion of the work of that assembly. The reverend took for his text II Timothy iii, 14. "But continue thou in the things which thou has learned, and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned."

"There are three propositions which lie at the bottom of this subject which must be accepted that the work of the Westminster Assembly be appreciated.

"First, That God has created man a rational creature, capable of knowing himself and God.

"Second, That God, the great creator, is eminent, and matchless in power and glory.

"Third, That he would reveal himself to the objects of his creation and love.

"These three propositions granted, we may ask: Has God spoken? What has God said? What has God revealed concerning himself and man? In the determination of the answers to these questions there is room for wide discussion, for in fact the whole theological field of investigation is thrown open. Every question of philosophy, economics, criticism, higher and textual, also of biblical interpretation, is wrapped up in these.

"There never sat any council in any age so enlightened and withal so devout as the 121 divines who for almost six years sat in Jerusalem. They lived in an intellectual age, the age of Shakespeare, Milton, Cromwell and Bacon. They also were imbued with a deep spirituality, as their writings abundantly testify. In the product of their labors, in the confession of faith, the longer and shorter catechisms, they covered completely, but succinctly, the whole field of Scriptural investigation and thought. Their work has stood the battering rams of false teachers from their day to this, yet its truth still shines forth, convincing intelligent and candid students of the word of God."

BURIED IN SALINEVILLE.

The Remains of Thomas Quayle Taken There Today.

The death of Thomas Quayle whose serious illness we chronicled a week ago occurred on Saturday morning. Mr. Quayle's age was 80 years.

He formerly resided in Salineville, but for 15 years has lived in Wellsville. Eight children are left to mourn his loss. Two sons David and Sherman Quayle reside in Wellsville. Also two daughters: Mrs. Henry Kampman at whose home he made his home on Liverpool street, and Mrs. G. M. Roberts. Mrs. Joseph Faloon, Mrs. Thomas Earls, Mrs. Joseph Bell and Mrs. Isaac Faloon, of Salineville, and Mrs. C. B. Weaver, of Allegheny, are the other members of the family.

CHAPLAIN SUTHERLAND

Conducted Services at Congo Yesterday Afternoon.

Special patriotic services were held at the chapel in Congo yesterday afternoon. Reverend Southerland, of Cumberland, now under appointment as chaplain in the United States army, conducted the service.

The reverend gentleman referred to the good that would come from the war, and already the North and South are united, while the calling out of the patriotic feeling that has so long been dormant had already accomplished much. He explained the enormous power of the Anglo-Saxon people, and prophesied that it would in future years be increased.

There was a good crowd in attendance. Among the number were John A. Joseph, Isaac Crable, John M. Russell, E. F. Mills, E. W. McConnell and Rev. C. L. V. McKee, of Wellsville.

ONE OF TEDDY'S MEN.

Mr. Neff Will Campaign With the Rough Riders.

Mr. Neff, formerly connected with the engineering department of the railroad, was in town today settling up his affairs preparatory to going to war.

Mr. Neff was transferred to Fort Wayne some time ago, and when the war broke out applied for a position in the engineering branch of the service. That could not be obtained, and he promptly enlisted in Colonel Roosevelt's regiment of rough riders. He will join them next Thursday.

Mr. Neff's friends in Wellsville believe he will make a good soldier, and will not long remain a private.

Went Home.

Henry Ewing and family, who have been in town attending the funeral of Mr. Ewing's mother, the late Mrs. Hannah Ewing, returned to their home in Yorkville this morning.

WORKING ON THE MILL

Mr. Finley and Mr. Ward Are Hard at It.

CLOSING UP ALL PRELIMINARIES

Nothing Like a Long Delay Is Anticipated—There Are Many Reasons Why the Construction of the Plant Should Be Rushed.

Mr. Finley, secretary of the new rolling mill company, is in Pittsburg looking after business connected with the plant.

Mr. Finley is accompanied by Mr. Ward, the stockholder who resides in New Castle. They have a number of important matters to consider, and it is probable Mr. Finley will not return here until the middle of the week. It is not known whether the contract will soon be let.

It is learned, however, from an authoritative source that work on the plant is to be rushed. There are very good reasons why the mill should be in operation with the least possible delay, and that end will be attained. Mr. Ward is as anxious as Mr. Finley to begin, and the business which at present occupies the gentleman's attention is wholly connected with the construction of the plant.

TRIBUTE TO GLADSTONE

Doctor Reager Did Not Forget the Dead Statesman.

HE WAS A DEVOUT CHRISTIAN

Something of the Life of Savonarola—Reverend McKee Preached Presbyterianism. Reverend Lowry Delivered an Excellent Sermon.

In his sermon yesterday morning on "The Place of Refuge," among other things Doctor Reager said:

"The death of William E. Gladstone calls anew the attention of the world to the grace of Jesus Christ, by which such characters are formed. After everything else is said of the greatness of England's greatest statesman, this is the climax: 'Gladstone was a devout Christian, a humble follower of Jesus of Nazareth.' At the cross of Christ began the reformation, the ultimate of which shall be a world regenerated from vice, oppression, ignorance and superstition.

"Four hundred years ago tomorrow in the beautiful city of Florence, Italy, in the public square, surrounded by bishops, priests and a vast multitude of spectators, Savonarola, the reformer, priest of San-Marco, was strangled and burned, because he plead for the purity of the church and the liberty of the people. The urn of history holds his ashes in sacred keeping. They have been an inspiration to heroic souls in every land for 400 years. Mazzini and Garibaldi struck for Italy under this inspiration and the sunny land of art and song is free. Within the shadow of the vatican, from which issued the decree for the reformer's torture and death, tomorrow will rise the grateful praises of freemen to the memory of the martyred priest, who was burned for his fidelity to Jesus. The name of the man who signed the decree of torture and death, with those who executed it, is buried in the criminal records of the past, but above the names of Italy's statesmen, soldiers, artists and poets shines with ever increasing luster the name of the reformer priest of San-Marco, Savonarola. Doctor Holmes, formerly president of Beaver college at Beaver, Pa., who preached yesterday in this city, returned to his home this morning.

Yesterday at St. Aloysius church the mass of Die Profundis was observed. Prayers were also said in behalf of the soldiers and sailors in the service of the United States.

Engineer McConnell, of Steubenville, is still doing a small amount of work on lines of Virginia opposite Walker, and comes up from Steubenville on the New Cumberland branch.

The large flags of the Phoenix club, which have been flying from a staff at the corner of the veranda, were today strung from a rope stretched across Washington street.

The bulldog would have made short work of the cur, but a young man who did not approve of the action passed, and, catching the bulldog by the nape of the neck, picked it up and threw it half across the street, knocking all the fight out of it.

THE DUAL ALLIANCE.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST AN ANGLO-AMERICAN UNION.

Some Reasons Why Such a League Would Be Advantageous to the United States. Matters We Should Have to Consider Before Consenting to the Union.

FOR.

Some of the advantages to be gained from an Anglo-American alliance would be these:

The harmonious action of 460,000,000 people, constituting one-third of the human race.

The absolute security of our territory from invasion by a land force, since Canada constitutes the only base from which such an invasion would be practicable.

The safety of Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit and all our other lake ports from any possible attack, since England holds the keys to their only gate.

The practical unity of the North American continent.

The assistance of the strongest navy in the world, almost insuring our seaports against bombardment or blockade by the fleets of any combination of powers.

The use of coaling stations distributed at all the most desirable points on the globe.

The acceptance of the Monroe doctrine by the country that has the most occasion and the most power to dispute it.

The assurance that in whatever part of the world an American heard his own language spoken he would be among friends.

The probability that such a combination, with its inexhaustible resources in men, money and ships, would discourage attack and make for universal peace.

AGAINST.

Among the things we should have to take into account before consenting to anything in the nature of an alliance with England are:

The chances that we might be involved in numberless quarrels not of our seeking and not naturally affecting us.

The danger that we might find ourselves obliged to depart from our traditional policy of opposition to large standing armies.

The risk of losing some of the absolute independence of action that has hitherto been the chief feature of our foreign policy.

The disadvantage of admitting another power into such intimate relations that it might claim a voice in the settlement of purely American matters.

The enormous expense in which we might become involved for objects of no immediate interest to Americans.

The probability that such an alliance would embroil us with other powers that were our friends when England was not one and that might be expected to continue so if we maintained our isolation.

On the whole, it may be said that while the discussion of an alliance may not be premature, its conclusion would be in present conditions. We are engaged just now in a little war with Spain. We certainly need no assistance for that. But if three or four of the great powers of Europe should form a syndicate and undertake to gouge us out of our victory, as they did with Japan, we might be glad to have England's help.

On the other hand, we certainly have no desire to accompany England around the globe, standing guard over her with a gun while she dumps such African, Asiatic and Oceanic valuables as she can lift into her bag. But if any continental combination should set upon Britannia and threaten to do her serious harm we think it safe to say that such a combination would have to reckon with Uncle Sam. That is as far as the project of an alliance seems likely to go at present.—New York Journal.

BRIGADE OF CANADIANS.

One Is Being Organized In Chicago to Fight For Uncle Sam.

A brigade of Canadians is being raised in Chicago, one regiment of infantry, one of artillery and one of cavalry, ready to fight for Uncle Sam. Recruiting has been in progress about a week, and 2,000 men have already enlisted. One thousand of them live in Chicago. The idea of raising a Canadian legion for the present war originated in a small dinner party of Canadian-Americans at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago a few weeks ago. It was mentioned at that time that there are 75,000 Canadians or others of British birth or parentage in Chicago. When active recruiting began, stations were established in Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit, Duluth, Cleveland, Denver, Cincinnati and Buffalo.

Lieutenant Colonel George A. Baynes is in temporary command, but his idea is to tender the command of the infantry regiment, known as the Canadian-American Rifles, to some prominent American of Canadian birth. The position has been offered to Representative William Lorimer. The war department will be asked to unite the three regiments in one brigade and to appoint a brigadier general of British descent from the regular army to command it.—New York World.

The Ex-President to Be Chief Counsel Before Boundary Dispute Tribunal.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The tribunal which is to adjust the dispute between Venezuela and Great Britain as to the boundary between the former country and British Guiana will assemble in Paris next February.

The personnel of the tribunal was determined by the treaty of Washington, in 1897, Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court being selected by Venezuela to represent her interests.

They and the two representatives of Great Britain have chosen, in accordance with the terms of the treaty, the fifth member of the tribunal in the person of M. De Mertens, the eminent authority on international law and chief counselor of the Russian foreign office.

At the sittings of the tribunal the agent of Venezuela will be Dr. Jose Maria de Rojas. He will be assisted in the conduct of Venezuela's case by ex-President Benjamin Harrison, as chief counsel, with ex-Secretary of the Navy Benjamin F. Tracy of New York and Mr. S. Mallet-Prevost, former secretary of the Venezuelan commission, as assistant counsels.

TALK OF ADJOURNMENT.

Hale Says It May Come Within Three Weeks—Teller Says Six.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—There is more or less talk in the senate about the final adjournment of congress. Senator Hale expressed the opinion that it might be reached within three weeks, while Senator Teller put it at six weeks. With the war revenue bill out of the way and appropriation made for the conduct of the war there will be very little incentive to remain unless it should by that time become apparent that the war is drawing to a close.

In that event some senators express the desire that congress should be in session in order that the senate might have an opportunity to pass upon any treaty of peace that might be negotiated. It does not now appear probable, however, that congress would remain here any great length of time merely for that purpose.

May Consider Annexation.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—During the present week the Hawaiian annexation resolutions are likely to be considered in the house. No positive assurance has been given that a special rule providing for their consideration will be reported, but it is generally understood that, in the event of the revenue bill being well advanced in the senate, the committee on rules will respond to the majority demand in the house for immediate disposal of the Hawaiian resolutions.

Riot In India.

CALCUTTA, May 23.—About 3,000 people took part in a riot which lasted two hours in Bhowanipoor, 99 miles west of Dynagepor, Saturday. Many of the rioters were injured and they were finally dispersed by the police.

Hawkins Was Nominated.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 23.—Returns from 71 out of 101 precincts in the county show the Acheson organization candidates successful in the primaries by votes of two to one, except for state senate, in which Colonel A. L. Hawkins defeated J. F. Budke by 20 votes. The calling of the Tenth regiment into active service was the means of landing the colonel the nomination.

Secretary Long Went Home.

HINGHAM, Mass., May 23.—Secretary of the Navy John D. Long, accompanied by Mrs. Long and their young son, Pierce Long, and the family physician, arrived at their home here yesterday afternoon. The secretary left Washington to accompany Mrs. Long, who has been very ill, to Hingham.

Sunday Ballplayers Arrested.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—An attempt has been made by the Indianapolis and Kansas City teams to play ball here. After two innings had been played all the members of both teams and the umpire were arrested.

Quay Forces Likely Won.

DANVILLE, Pa., May 23.—Returns received so far from Montour county indicate that the Quay forces will have two-thirds of the delegates.

RATCHFORD'S PROTEST.

He Objects to Certain Operators Getting Government Contracts.

MASSILLON, May 23.—M. D. Ratchford, president of the United Mine Workers of America, while here bitterly scored the government for giving its coal contracts exclusively to the operators of Central Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

"That coal is produced by foreign and cheap labor," he said, "and it is absolutely impossible for the operators of the other districts who pay living wages to compete with them. The government should offer its support to the honest and intelligent miners of the country, and be willing to pay a decent price for its war vessels' coal."

A Cutting Affair.

AKRON, O., May 23.—George Bloessinger, Jr., a young expressman living at 723 East Exchange street, was fatally stabbed by Isaac Hartman, a hostler. Bloessinger's physicians claim there is not the slightest possibility of his recovery. Hartman and Bloessinger had some words over the former's refusal to treat Bloessinger. They met again. The quarrel was renewed, and Hartman cut Bloessinger in the stomach and then drove away in his buggy. He was found later at his brother's home and said he had to use the knife in self-defense.

An Unusual Suit.

AKRON, May 23.—The unusual incident of an assignee suing one of the men who assigned to him is a feature of an action commenced in common pleas court here. W. H. Carter, assignee of the J. F. Seiberling company, sues J. F. Seiberling for $175,000.00, claimed due on Seiberling's account with the company of which he was president and which went to the wall two years ago.

Lot of Land Submerged.

QUINCY, May 23.—The break in the Crow levee in the Indian district has caused the spreading waters to cover an area of nearly 15,000 acres of farming lands, and on part of this the water is three feet deep. It is estimated that about 5,000 or 6,000 acres of wheat is submerged and it probably will be a total loss.

THE DUAL ALLIANCE.

ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST AN ANGLO-AMERICAN UNION.

Some Reasons Why Such a League Would Be Advantageous to the United States. Matters We Should Have to Consider Before Consenting to the Union.

FOR.

Some of the advantages to be gained from an Anglo-American alliance would be these:

The harmonious action of 460,000,000 people, constituting one-third of the human race.

The absolute security of our territory from invasion by a land force, since Canada constitutes the only base from which such an invasion would be practicable.

The safety of Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit and all our other lake ports from any possible attack, since England holds the keys to their only gate.

The practical unity of the North American continent.

The assistance of the strongest navy in the world, almost insuring our seaports against bombardment or blockade by the fleets of any combination of powers.

The use of coaling stations distributed at all the most desirable points on the globe.

The acceptance of the Monroe doctrine by the country that has the most occasion and the most power to dispute it.

The assurance that in whatever part of the world an American heard his own language spoken he would be among friends.

The probability that such a combination, with its inexhaustible resources in men, money and ships, would discourage attack and make for universal peace.

AGAINST.

Among the things we should have to take into account before consenting to anything in the nature of an alliance with England are:

The chances that we might be involved in numberless quarrels not of our seeking and not naturally affecting us.

The danger that we might find ourselves obliged to depart from our traditional policy of opposition to large standing armies.

The risk of losing some of the absolute independence of action that has hitherto been the chief feature of our foreign policy.

The disadvantage of admitting another power into such intimate relations that it might claim a voice in the settlement of purely American matters.

The enormous expense in which we might become involved for objects of no immediate interest to Americans.

The probability that such an alliance would embroil us with other powers that were our friends when England was not one and that might be expected to continue so if we maintained our isolation.

On the whole, it may be said that while the discussion of an alliance may not be premature, its conclusion would be in present conditions. We are engaged just now in a little war with Spain. We certainly need no assistance for that. But if three or four of the great powers of Europe should form a syndicate and undertake to gouge us out of our victory, as they did with Japan, we might be glad to have England's help.

On the other hand, we certainly have no desire to accompany England around the globe, standing guard over her with a gun while she dumps such African, Asiatic and Oceanic valuables as she can lift into her bag. But if any continental combination should set upon Britannia and threaten to do her serious harm we think it safe to say that such a combination would have to reckon with Uncle Sam. That is as far as the project of an alliance seems likely to go at present.—New York Journal.

BRIGADE OF CANADIANS.

One Is Being Organized In Chicago to Fight For Uncle Sam.

A brigade of Canadians is being raised in Chicago, one regiment of infantry, one of artillery and one of cavalry, ready to fight for Uncle Sam. Recruiting has been in progress about a week, and 2,000 men have already enlisted. One thousand of them live in Chicago. The idea of raising a Canadian legion for the present war originated in a small dinner party of Canadian-Americans at the Grand Pacific hotel in Chicago a few weeks ago. It was mentioned at that time that there are 75,000 Canadians or others of British birth or parentage in Chicago. When active recruiting began, stations were established in Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit, Duluth, Cleveland, Denver, Cincinnati and Buffalo.

Lieutenant Colonel George A. Baynes is in temporary command, but his idea is to tender the command of the infantry regiment, known as the Canadian-American Rifles, to some prominent American of Canadian birth. The position has been offered to Representative William Lorimer. The war department will be asked to unite the three regiments in one brigade and to appoint a brigadier general of British descent from the regular army to command it.—New York World.
